25X1

FEB 1952 51-4AA

INFORMATION REPORT OF NO. OF PAGES 1 NO. OF P			CENTRAL II	NTELLIGENCE AGENCY	•
DOUNTRY China DO NOT CINCULATE Recommaissance of Hainan NO. OF PAGES 1 NO. OF PAGES 1 NO. OF ENCLS. CUSTO SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO. PAGE OF NO. THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION THE IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION 1. Tulin (109-34, 18-13): There was no shipping and the harbor was deserted; cranes observed were inactive; and the Yulin—Sanya bridge was intact, with new construction evident at the Yulin end. 2. Sanya: There were no alreaft on the airfield, which appeared inactive; there was no addivity in the harbor. 3. Huangliu (108-46, 19-30): The barracks on the airfield were dilapidated and partly destroyed; no aircraft were present and there was no activity at the field which appeared to have been inactive for possibly one year; and 12 parking revenants at the field were in disuse. 4. Tunghait and: Three landing craft were in the harbor; one crane appeared operational; there was activity on a railroad running northwest; and there was a completed air strip fit we miles east of the harbor with a north-south runway approximately 4,000 feet long, but with no activity at the field which is possibly an emergency landing strip. 5. Chiumgshan (10-21, 20-02): There was an airfield north of the city with no activity, no new construction, and no aircraft visible. 6. Yingkohai ² : One unidentified aircraft, possibly a small transport, was observed flying southeast at an altitude of 10,000 feet.		CLASSIFICATION					2
DOUNTRY China DO NOT CINCULATE Reconnaissance of Hainan NO. OF PAGES 1 NO. OF ENCLS. LISTED SELECT RECOURS APPLEMENT TO REPORT NO. THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION THE DISTR. 22 Aug. 1952 NO. OF ENCLS. LISTED SELECT SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO. THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION 1. Yulin (109-34, 18-13): There was no shipping and the harbor was deserted; cranes observed were inactive; and the Yulin-Sanya bridge was intact, with new construction evident at the Yulin end. 2. Sanya: There were no aircraft on the airfield, which appeared inactive; there was no activity in the harbor. 3. Huanglin (108-46, 19-30): The barracks on the airfield were dilapidated and partly destroyed; no aircraft were present and there was no activity at the field which appeared to have been inactive for possibly one year; and 12 parking revetments at the field were in disuse. 4. Tiunghait and: Three lending craft were in the harbor; one crane appeared operational; there was activity on a railroad running northwest; and there was a completed air strip five miles east of the harbor with a north-south runway approximately 4,000 feet long, but with no activity at the field which is possibly an emergency landing strip. 5. Chiungshan (110-21, 20-02): There was an airfield north of the city with no activity, no new construction, and no aircraft visible. 6. Yingkonia's: One unidentified aircraft, possibly a small transport, was observed flying southeast at an altitude of 10,000 feet.			4	•			2
DATE DISTR. 22 Aug. 1952 DATE DISTR. 22 Aug. 1952 NO. OF PAGES 1 NO. OF PAGES 1 NO. OF ENCLS. USTED BELOW: SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO. THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION 1. Yulin (109-34, 18-13): There was no shipping and the harbor was deserted; cranes observed were inactive; and the Yulin-danya bridge was intact, with new construction evident at the Yulin end. 2. Sanya: There were no aircraft on the airfield, which appeared inactive; there was a radio station with a 150-Coot tower in the northeast area of the field; and there was no activity in the harbor. 3. Huanglin (108-46, 19-30): The barracks on the airfield were dilapidated and partly destroyed; no aircraft were present and there was no activity at the field which appeared to have been inactive for possibly one year; and 12 parking revetaments at the field were in disuse. 4. T'unghait's Three landing craft were in the harbor; one crane appeared operational; there was activity on a railroad running northwest; and there was a completed air strip five miles east of the harbor with a north-south runway approximately \(\frac{1}{2}, \frac{1}		nr	INFURMA	VIIUN KEPUN	REPORT NO
SUBJECT Recommaissance of Hainan NO. OF PAGES 1 NO. OF PAGE			rek		CD NO.
BUBLICT Recommaissance of Hainan NO. OF PAGES 1 NO. OF PAGE	COUNTR	Y China	DO NOT OR		DATE DISTR.	22 Aug. 1952	٠.
DATE OF INFO. PLACE ACQUIRED 1. Yulin (109-34, 18-13): There was no shipping and the harbor was deserted; crames observed were inactive; and the Yulin-Sanya bridge was intact, with new construction evident at the Yulin end. 2. Sanya: There were no aircraft on the airfield, which appeared inactive; there was a radio station with a 150-5cot tower in the northeast area of the field; and there was no activity in the harbor. 3. Huangliu (108-46, 19-30): The barranks on the airfield were dilapidated and partly destroyed; no aircraft were present and there was no activity at the field which appeared to have been inactive frossibly one year; and 12 parking revetments at the field were in disuse. 4. T'unghait'an's Three landing craft were in the harbor; one crane appeared operational; there was a chivity on a railroad running northwest; and there was a completed air strip five miles east of the harbor with a north-south runway approximately 4,000 feet long, but with no activity at the field which is possibly an emergency landing strip. 5. Chiungshan (110-21, 20-02): There was an airfield north of the city with no activity, no new construction, and no aircraft, possibly a small transport, was observed flying southeast at an altitude of 10,000 feet.	•			CULATE		. •
PLACE ACQUIRED THE DECEMBER CENTER AND ADDRESS OF THE SAME APPROACH APPROACH AND ADDRESS OF THE CANTES ADDRESS. ITS MANAGEMENT OR REPORT NO. THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION THIS IS UNEVALUATED IN	SOBJEC	necomars	sance of harman		110, 01 171020	-
PLACE ACQUIRED THIS SCORES CONTANT INFORMATION AFFECTIVE TO REPORT NO. THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORM	DATE OF	·
THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION 1. Yulin (109-34, 18-13): There was no shipping and the harbor was deserted; cranes observed were inactive; and the Yulin end. 2. Sanya: There were no aircraft on the airfield, which appeared inactive; there was a radio station with a 150-foot tower in the northeast area of the field; and there was no activity in the harbor. 3. Huangliu (108-46, 19-30): The barracks on the airfield were dilapidated and partly destroyed; no aircraft were present and there was no activity at the field which appeared to have been inactive for possibly one year; and 12 parking revetments at the field were in disuse. 4. T'unghait'anl: Three landing craft were in the harbor; one crane appeared operational; there was activity on a railroad running northwest; and there was a completed air strip five miles east of the harbor with a north-south runway approximately 4,000 feet long, but with no activity at the field which is possibly an emergency landing strip. 5. Chiungshan (110-21, 20-02): There was an airfield north of the city with no activity, no new construction, and no aircraft visible. 6. Yingkohai ² : One unidentified aircraft, possibly a small transport, was observed flying southeast at an altitude of 10,000 feet.					CURRI EMENT	TO.
THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION The street is the state of the street in the street in the harbor. The street was no shipping and the harbor was deserted; cranes observed were inactive; and the Yulin-Sanya bridge was intact, with new construction evident at the Yulin end. Sanya: There were no aircraft on the airfield, which appeared inactive; there was a radio station with a 150-foot tower in the northeast area of the field; and there was no activity in the harbor. Huangliu (108-46, 19-30): The barracks on the airfield were dilapidated and partly destroyed; no aircraft were present and there was no activity at the field which appeared to have been inactive for possibly one year; and 12 parking revetments at the field were in disuse. T'unghait'an': Three landing craft were in the harbor; one crane appeared operational; there was activity on a railroad running northwest; and there was a completed air strip five miles east of the harbor with a north-south runway approximately 4,000 feet long, but with no activity at the field which is possibly an emergency landing strip. Chiungshan (110-21, 20-02): There was an airfield north of the city with no activity, no new construction, and no aircraft visible. Yingkohai ² : One unidentified aircraft, possibly a small transport, was observed flying southeast at an altitude of 10,000 feet.		ED		MULL
new construction evident at the Yulin end. 2. Sanya: There were no aircraft on the airfield, which appeared inactive; there was a radio station with a 150-foot tower in the northeast area of the field; and there was no activity in the harbor. 3. Huangliu (108-46, 19-30): The barracks on the airfield were dilapidated and partly destroyed; no aircraft were present and there was no activity at the field which appeared to have been inactive for possibly one year; and 12 parking revetments at the field were in disuse. 4. T'unghait'anl: Three landing craft were in the harbor; one crane appeared operational; there was activity on a railroad running northwest; and there was a completed air strip five miles east of the harbor with a north-south runway approximately 4,000 feet long, but with no activity at the field which is possibly an emergency landing strip. 5. Chiungshan (110-21, 20-02): There was an airfield north of the city with no activity, no new construction, and no aircraft visible. 6. Yingkohai ² : One unidentified aircraft, possibly a small transport, was observed flying southeast at an altitude of 10,000 feet.		. Yulin (109-34,	18-13): There wa	s no shipping and	the harbor was	deserted;
there was a radio station with a 150-foot tower in the northeast area of the field; and there was no activity in the harbor. 3. Huangliu (108-46, 19-30): The barracks on the airfield were dilapidated and partly destroyed; no aircraft were present and there was no activity at the field which appeared to have been inactive for possibly one year; and 12 parking revetments at the field were in disuse. 4. T'unghait'an': Three landing craft were in the harbor; one crane appeared operational; there was activity on a railroad running northwest; and there was a completed air strip five miles east of the harbor with a north-south runway approximately 4,000 feet long, but with no activity at the field which is possibly an emergency landing strip. 5. Chiungshan (110-21, 20-02): There was an airfield north of the city with no activity, no new construction, and no aircraft visible. 6. Yingkohai ² : One unidentified aircraft, possibly a small transport, was observed flying southeast at an altitude of 10,000 feet.		cranes observed new construction	were inactive; a n evident at the	und the lulin-sany Yulin end.	a pringe was inco	TOO MICH
 Huangliu (108-46, 19-30): The barracks on the airfield were dilapidated and partly destroyed; no aircraft were present and there was no activity at the field which appeared to have been inactive for possibly one year; and 12 parking revetments at the field were in disuse. T'unghait'anl: Three landing craft were in the harbor; one crane appeared operational; there was activity on a railroad running northwest; and there was a completed air strip five miles east of the harbor with a north-south runway approximately 4,000 feet long, but with no activity at the field which is possibly an emergency landing strip. Chiungshan (110-21, 20-02): There was an airfield north of the city with no activity, no new construction, and no aircraft visible. Yingkohai²: One unidentified aircraft, possibly a small transport, was observed flying southeast at an altitude of 10,000 feet. 	2	there was a rad	io station with a	ı 150-foot tower i	hich appeared in n the northeast	active; area of the parking revetments at the field were in disuse. 4. T'unghait'anl: Three landing craft were in the harbor; one crane appeared operational; there was activity on a railroad running northwest; and there was a completed air strip five miles east of the harbor with a north-south runway approximately 4,000 feet long, but with no activity at the field which is possibly an emergency landing strip. 5. Chiungshan (110-21, 20-02): There was an airfield north of the city with no activity, no new construction, and no aircraft visible. 6. Yingkohai ² : One unidentified aircraft, possibly a small transport, was observed flying southeast at an altitude of 10,000 feet.	3	partly destroye	d; no aircraft we	ere present and th	ere was no activ	ity at the operational; there was activity on a railroad running northwest; and there was a completed air strip five miles east of the harbor with a north-south runway approximately 4,000 feet long, but with no activity at the field which is possibly an emergency landing strip. 5. Chiungshan (110-21, 20-02): There was an airfield north of the city with no activity, no new construction, and no aircraft visible. 6. Yingkohai ² : One unidentified aircraft, possibly a small transport, was observed flying southeast at an altitude of 10,000 feet.					ssibly one year;	and 12
 5. Chiungshan (110-21, 20-02): There was an airfield north of the city with no activity, no new construction, and no aircraft visible. 6. Yingkohai²: One unidentified aircraft, possibly a small transport, was observed flying southeast at an altitude of 10,000 feet. 	4	operational; the was a completed runway approxim	ere was activity air strip five m ately 4,000 feet	on a railroad run niles east of the long, but with no	ning northwest; a harbor with a no	and there rth-south observed flying southeast at an altitude of 10,000 feet.	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	5. Chiungshan (110	-21, 20-02): The	ere was an airfiel		ity with no a	c-
	•	6. Yingkohai ² : On	e unidentified ai	ircraft, possibly	a small transpor	t, was
	1	33501 400 125
	•
	٠
					·		2

X NAVY

NAVY

STATE

ARMY

■ NSRB

3% FBI

DISTRIBUTION COMNAVS I#1#7#PACFLTS#; CINCFE#FE4F#; TAIWAN :ALUSNA#EMB#MAAG#; 5AR#RYCOM#